

Poem submissions for Sri Sathya Sai Baba`s 94th birthday by SSE children across Canada.

A Poem for Swami

Eyes so deep and filled with emotion,
Ears so sharp that can hear every breath,
A tongue that speaks ever so kindly and gently,
Hair that is so beautifully kept,
A dazzling smile that can fill a person with utter bliss,
A heart overflowing with unconditional and irreplaceable love.

Every look,
Every word,
Every step,
Every breath,
Is filled
With pure love.

My mom,
My dad,
My brother,
My sister.

My very best friend
In the whole entire world.

Thank you Swami!

Thank you for lending an ear when no one else would listen to my fears
Thank you for lending a hand when I am confused and can't understand

Thank you for looking my way when everyone else turns away
Thank you for taking a thousand steps towards me when I take one step towards you

Thank you for giving me your heart, it is what gives my day the best start
To know that I have your help is what keeps me going every day

It is you who is my constant throughout my life which is turbulent

On your birthday this year I thank you for all you give and have given
For without you there is no Lalitha

So Thank You Swami for being with me always!

I Love You Swami

You have always been with me to defend,
It makes me sad that I have not seen you in real life.
I wish and pray that you can come in my dreams,
Baba, you have always kept up your promises.
Help me take care of my mom the same way you did to yours.
Swami, you showed your unconditional love to your schools and hospitals.
Baba, your vibuthi is miraculous and magical.
Protect me and guide me with all your miracles to keep me safe.
Be with me always Swami

Loving us all the time despite the mistakes that we make.
Obligingly telling the truth is something that he teaches us to do.
Valuable teachings that he has given us, are to guide us through our lives.
Enlightening our minds through stories and wisdom.
Avatar of this era, he came to sow the seeds of...
Love in all beings.
Love all serve all
Happy Birthday Dear Swami!

The Love of Sai

The world is but a child, a newborn in its generation.
The universe itself, a touch of His creation.
As the yugas pass by, each one having its own avatars
A new one comes and goes, each healing the world's scars.
Before it was simpler, a more peaceful time.
For each Ravana, a Rama came, another stroke of the divine.
But as the days of the Kali Yuga came, the demons grew,
People that were once saints now have only sins to pursue,
The world was going dark, and the light was coming due.
The day is coming for another guru,
The age of Sathya Narayana Raju

November 23, 1926, was the day our Swami was born.
The mother of the avatar, Easwaramma was adorned.
The baby appeared lifeless because He did not cry.
Rather, he started to smile, the baby born from the skies.
Yet she was ultimately torn,
At the age of 14,
Swami had declared his worth to the world.

Spreading the theme, "Love All, Serve All",
Swami changed the world, and the world followed his call.
By fulfilling the three wishes of His mother,
Swami brought education, medication, and abolished hunger.

Through his speeches, bhajans and Sevas He spread His love.
He spread His teachings from the heavens above.
Spread His message, "My life is My Message".

Swami, You are my father, my mother, my friend.
And You will be there for me until the very end.

Loving Mother

For whatever success comes to us in life,
We must always be grateful to our mothers
They taught us to not be selfish
And be kind to others
They taught us our values and virtues
And most importantly how to use a tissue
They spread upon love and faith
And sure we didn't go to school late
So under all our love for Sai
We must remember Easwaramma
The mother of Sai!

Coming Down on Earth

Coming down on Earth
A normal human being
Reincarnated Shiva
Named Sathyanarayana
Born November 23rd,

His message was heard.
Said "my life is my message",
then changed the world.
"Why fear when I am here"
he said, the great puppeteer.
Benevolent, omniscient.
He made hospitals,
made Prasanthi Nilayam.
Helped many people
with these many kind acts of his.
On his 94th birthday,
we would like to say,
We love you Swami!

Swami!

You give us strength, to meet the challenge of life.

You give us power, to realize the dream of life.

You give us smarts, to play the game of life.

You give us your unconditional love, to enjoy life.

You are the wind beneath our wings, and there is nothing we cannot do when you are with us.

You are our mother, to nurture us.

You are our father, to protect us.

You are our friend, to motivate us.

You are our guide, to show us the way.

Swami, you are everything to us, and we owe everything to you.

We love you!

Our Beloved Founder

God becomes Man;
So that Man can become God.

There was a Divine Rain of Love
On Nov-23, from up above

Sathya Sai was His name
Love all; Serve all was His game

He gave Education, water and health
5 Universal Values were His wealth

We, the Students are His property
His very name is our safety

Love make His garland grow
Following His teachings makes us glow

Help Ever; Hurt Never
He is within Me forever

I have no fear because He is Near & Dear
I have no sadness because He wipes my every tear

This School, He made it happen
All of us are blessed, so lets clap in

Sri Sathya Sai Baba

He is affectionate,
He is honest.
He is patient,
He is the best.

Who is he?
Sathya Sai Baba!

He is loyal,
He is a friend.
He is calm,
He is magnificent.

Who is a good role model?
Sathya Sai Baba!

He is generous,
And encouraging too.
He will sure inspire you.
That's true!

Who is the teacher?

To My Swami

To My Swami,
It's your special day.
And I have something,
That I want to say.
Thank you for helping me,
When I am stuck,
And thank you for always
Making me happy.

When I see you smile,
I always feel like it's just for me,
And when you smile,
I know you are with me.
Thank you for building hospitals
And making water fountains
For all the people who needed it
But couldn't have it.

You are one of my best friends
And even though I know you're everywhere,
Sometimes I wish I could see you and meet you,
Because that would be really cool too.
When I close my eyes and pray,
I imagine you spending time with me,
Eating ice cream, going to the park,
And playing board games all day.

To My Swami on your Special Day,
I want to say...
Happy Birthday!!

Happy Birthday Swami!

Swami, 94 is a number that we use to keep count. But you are one, and omnipresent within each and every one.

For your birthday, I write to you, this small little poem,
Though you already know the little poem within my heart.

Last year was my very last play,
But this year has made it feel as though it'll never disappear.

I took part in the play this year as a director,
But you are the one who had made it possible for me to come this far and make this possible.

The kids, the stories and the directors were all in your hands,
And Swami for you, we made this play, to celebrate our love for you.

Happy birthday Swami, With Love.

Mirror

Never trust a mirror
Because a mirror always lies
It makes you think all you're worth,
Can be seen from the outside.

Never trust a mirror,
It only shows your skins reflection
And your reflection can't show you
What you are meant to be

Never trust a mirror,
For it only shows your skin
And if you think it dictates your worth,
It is time you look within.

Swami your gentle smile,
Makes us feel like everything is worthwhile.

Love all serve all,
Swami there is a piece of you inside us all.

Why fear when you are here,
Swami we should all know that you are near.

Help ever hurt never,
Swami you will always be with us forever.

Afterlife

I wonder about the afterlife
There are so many stories about it
But which ones are true?
There are so many questions
But which ones can be answered?

There is Yama believed by the Hindus
There is Osaris believed by the Egyptians
There is Satan mentioned in the Holy Bible
There is Hades from the Greek Mythology

I question
What happens in the afterlife?
Where do we go?
Are any of the stories true?
But in the end can any of these be answered?

But if I live a good life on earth now
I guess I won't have to worry after all.

Growing Up

I've always wondered about this life
And what it means to grow
Living this world so full of strife
Never wanting to know

Growing old means going far
Ambition in your eye
Shining like a shooting star
Soaring through the sky

Life is more than what we thought
Our soul like living fire
Our goal was mean to be sought
Through one's loving desire

The journey of life keeps us going
Like warmth from an actual smile
The waters of time, always flowing
Makes it all the more worthwhile.

I wake up in the morning thanking you for my grateful life, the wonderful world and environment I live in, and my faithful family and friends.
Through my 13 year journey you were always there for me.
You are by my side making sure everything is alright
whether I can physically see you or not I can sense your unconditional love
I think of you every day trying to portray your teachings
"be a good person
be good to others and good will happen to you
happiness will surround you"

Swami!

Swami, I adore you for your service, divinity, sacredness, as well as your deeds and actions.

You are always there for me, whenever I need you.

You are in me, as you had stated, "my life is your message".

You will always reside in my heart forever.

Whenever you are there for me, I have felt your presence through your love and affection towards myself.

Swami! Whenever I'm lost or need help, that very moment you said "Remember me or not, I will be there! I will be there!"

You love us all so much, no one can tell how much. I can never doubt you because you have never let me down! You were there for me, stayed with me, and lead me throughout my entire life.

I believe that when I call you Baba, I can look no further and you'll be there for me, waiting to guide me. You mean so much to me Swami and I can never forget you.

Every lesson I have learnt during my entire lifetime, has been a form of you and your fine teachings.

You are the cure to my sorrow and anger and I can never imagine my life without you Swami.

May your blessings be with all of us.

"You are God. I am God. The only difference is I know it, and you don't" - Sathya Sai Baba

We all have feelings for the ones we love. Whether they are with us or they have gone above.

Our vices have driven us apart, but what was the reason to depart?

Eliminate yourself from your bad qualities. That will be the day when humanity truly unites and realizes the true God in them.

Sathya Sai

Have you ever wondered who controlled the winds?
Or who kept us alive all these years?
Or who gave the birds their amazing song to sing?
And made the sky a peaceful blue too?
Who gave us the might to speak for our right?
The One who can make miracles happen...
Who can take anything and make something new...
The first to make the world a better place...

God's gifts

Our world is filled with nature,
Down to every single creature

From pandas, dolphins and butterflies,
There is nothing here to despise

The beauty of a carnation, a tulip and a rose,
To the way the small stream flows

We must cherish the gifts God gave us,
Instead of polluting and ignorantly saying a cuss

We should fight the urge to pollute,
But instead give nature a salute

So please change your way of life,
Stop the pain nature receives....
The pain that is as sharp as a knife.

A plant's pain

Nature is everywhere,
And requires great care.

Plants around the world are getting polluted,
But they can't run away because they're rooted.

Flowers and trees all dying so fast,
In a quick snap they will become the past.

The pain the plants endure is too much to bear,
Well, we the humans somehow don't even care.

The trees are going down for the wishes of man,
I want this, I want that, we all demand.

We are dumping oil all over the earth,
Not even caring what nature's worth.

For our comfort, we are making them die,
We don't even have a funeral to say goodbye.

Very slowly we realize we are doing things that are bad
If we keep on destroying the earth, our future will be sad.

Save energy, don't pollute, make new plans,
Spread this message around the world to save the plants

Irony in our nature

In her mink skin coat
Her alligator boots
And her beaver skin hat

She rides in her cab
To a protest
And now she wants to save the whales.

What an activist she has become!
Because no one cares,

No one cares,

No one cares enough,

Or do they?

But in this twisted world,
In her twisted mind,
She truly is doing something right.

But,
Oh Ms. Believer,
You put too much faith in yourself,
And us too.
And out of all the beautiful people in this world,
Not one,
Not one,
Is a pretty weeper enough
To change us.
